

About Dals

The world is a better, fairer place when everyone is understood. At Dals we enable people and organisations to tackle the critical language challenges they face every day. Our first-class interpreting and translation services cover more than 500 languages, including British Sign Language and other non-spoken languages. With our ever-growing network of interpreters and linguists, we connect our clients with crucial expertise whenever and wherever they need it – in person, on-screen or by phone.

Our track record speaks for itself. We're leaders in our industry, and trusted partners to key public services, private sector organisations and central government bodies. Our clients need pinpoint accuracy, maximum accessibility and full accountability when communicating with their service users, and rely on us to solve their critical challenges with fluency, efficiency and ease. Clearer understanding creates more equal outcomes, and that's what we help deliver across millions of interactions every year.

As a people-focused business with strong values and a passion for positive change, we attract the most talented people to become part of our team. We're growing sustainably by expanding our essential services to increase access, while harnessing the latest technology to improve customer experiences. Together we're proud to bring potentially life-changing clarity to every conversation, and create a fairer world through better understanding.

Over 500 languages and dialects

Pool of 8,000+ native-level linguists

300,000+ bookings a year

28,000,000 minutes of telephone interpreting annually

25,000 translation projects completed yearly

1,504,000 minutes of video interpreting delivered annually